Proposal for a

COUNCIL REGULATION

repealing certain obsolete Council acts in the field of the Common Agricultural Policy

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

A number of acts which were adopted over the last decades have exhausted all their effects, but are still in force. They have become obsolete because of their temporary character or because their content has been taken up by successive acts. Several measures linked to the accession of new Member States have become obsolete following their accession. The European Parliament, the Council and the Commission agreed in their inter-institutional agreement on better law making that Community law should be updated and condensed by repealing acts which are no longer applied.¹ Acts which have no continued relevance should be removed from the 'acquis communautaire', in order to improve transparency and certainty of Community law.

The Commission has carried out several exercises to remove obsolete legislation from the acquis, partly through the traditional repeal procedure, partly by declaring the relevant Commission acts obsolete. Most recently, the Commission declared some 250 agricultural acts obsolete.² In its Communication "A simplified CAP for Europe - a success for all" of 18 March 2009, the Commission confirmed its intention to clean up agricultural rules.³ The present proposal is foreseen in the Simplification Rolling Programme adopted in the framework of the implementation of the Commission's strategy for simplification of the regulatory environment, as updated recently - document COM (2008) 712 Annex 2 to the 2009 Commission's Legislative and Work Programme".

The Commission has identified a number of Council acts related to the Common Agricultural Policy, which have exhausted all practical effects. It is not within the Commission's powers to declare Council acts obsolete. In the interest of legal certainty, the Commission suggests that the acts listed in this proposal shall be repealed by the Council.
